WITH WILDER'S PATENT POWDER AND BURGLAR-PROOF LOCKS.

B. G. WILDER & CO.,
PATENTEES AND MANUFACTURERS OF THE BEST FIRE PROOF SAFE IN THE WORLD!!

JEWELERS' and BANKERS' SAFES made to Order, Lined with Hardened Steel.
HOUSE AND PLATE SAFES.

TO THIS CELEBRATED SAFE was awarded the GOLD MEDAL, at the World's Fair in London, in 1851.

NOTICE.—This celebrated Fire Proof safe is no longer made and sold by SILAS C. HERRING, his license to make and sell them having expired.

The thousands of Certificates from Merchants, Bankers and Mechanics of all trades, that have been given in favor of this the only true "SALAMANDER," renders it useless for the subscribers to multiply words in its favor, as full thirty thousand of "WILDER'S PATENT SALAMANDER SAFES," have been manufactured and sold in the United States; and, in almost every large fire that has taken place during the last seventeen years, these Safes have been subjected to the severest tests, and not one of the 'Genuine Salamanders' has ever been destroyed.

Safes sold at New York price, with the freight to Wilmington added. No commission charged in Wilmington. We are prepared to take orders for these celebrated Safes. Samples can be seen at our office in a few days.

Every Merchant should have one of these cheap and secure Safes.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES. } Editors.

Saturday, June 2, 1866.

OUR TERMS.

THE SENTINEL is issued every morning (Sunday excepted) at the following rates:

For Daily, per year,	$10 00
" six months,	5 00
" one month,	1 00
" two months,	2 00
Semi-Weekly, per year,	5 00
Weekly, per year,	3 00

Our terms are invariably in advance. Money may be sent us by the Rail Road conductors or the Express Companies.

Comparing Records.

We challenge a comparison of records with Governor Worth or any of his friends.—Standard.

You compared records with Gov. Vance before the people of North Carolina in 1864, the people wrote against you, "mene, mene,' &c.

Not content with this test, you compared records with Gov. Worth in 1865, the people wrote against you again, "mene, mene," &c.

Are you willing to try it again? Perhaps your friends think you can do better this time. You recollect you said there were issues that you could make, which would carry the State by an overwhelming majority. Suppose you try it again? Perhaps the bitter complaints you make in behalf of the persecuted Union men, will help you amazingly. Perhaps, if you will manage the campaign again for yourself you will do better. Come try it, only once more—yes, once more.

But our Ex. P. G. tells the people of Wake, "We have no wish for office. We beg them to unite on some one else for Governor. We desire no office of any kind." But you said the same thing in 1864, and then again in 1865.—You changed your mind. May you not do it again? But to the record:

"We are as true a Confederate and as guiltless of correspondence with the public enemy as any man in the Confederate States."—Standard, Oct. 6, 1863.

Will you stand upon that record? How do you like the following:

"The President of the late United States is attempting to coerce and subjugate the people of the South. I need only say that I am with North Carolina and the South, in resisting to the last extremity the usurpations and aggressions of the Federal government."—Card to the people of Wake, May 4th, 1861.

Maj. Gee's Trial.

Our article of yesterday does not properly explain the reasons for the adjournment of the Court. We learn from an official source that the object of the adjournment, is to give the counsel for the defence time to prepare their argument. But one more witness we learn, from the same source, remains to be examined for the defence.

Moreover, we are told that the entire expense of witnesses both for the defence and the prosecution falls upon the government. The expenses of his own counsel and other incidentals, alone fall on Maj. Gee. This, however, will be large, and we are glad to find his friends in Florida are ready to assist their unfortunate but highly respected and beloved fellow citizen.

This trial continues to excite much interest, both in this State and Florida. There are the best of reasons why it should be so. No man in the South presents a higher and more enviable character for all the virtues which ennoble human nature, than Maj. Gee. His vindication now on record, is perfectly overwhelming. We do not recollect ever to have seen a bill of indictment, so utterly demolished and set aside by testimony in defense, as in this case. If a single point in the bill of charges, implicating the character of Maj. Gee has been sustained, we have yet to see it.

And yet, most strange to say, we have heard fears expressed, and those fears coming too, in some instances, from gentlemen connected with the army, that the finding of the Court will be adverse to him. This opinion is not based in the least, upon any knowledge of the views and feelings of the Court, but simply upon the vicious, and to our minds, seriously depreciating idea, that "military Courts are formed to convict." Can it be possible, that this oft repeated remark is anything but badanage? Is there proper ground for the charge that "military Courts are formed for conviction?" From our earliest history the character of a United States officer has been associated in our mind, with ideas of perfect gentility, irreproachable personal honor, truthfulness and magnanimity.—We had supposed that military Courts were only to sit in times of war, but for the purpose of administering justice, simple, stern, inexorable justice upon the violators of law, and to protect with the strong arm of military power, the innocent. Alas! for our country; alas! for the fame and the good name of our military officers, if there be the shadow of foundation for the idea, that "military Courts are formed to convict." Better that they were never known to fame—better that a mill-stone were put around their necks and they drowned in the midst of the sea,—better had they never been born, than they should have upon their hands the blood of innocent men. We cannot, we will not believe it.

By the way, Maj. Gee is a paroled officer of the late Confederate army and was duly accepted as such by Gen. Grant in the surrender by Gen. Johnston. This matter was at the first brought to the attention of the government.—It does seem to us, if the matter was again pressed upon the attention of Gen. Grant and the President, they would not hesitate to order his release. That Maj. Gee is an innocent man, the testimony of mankind cannot make more clear than has been already.

Col Haywood's Lecture.

We were present on Thursday night, at the Commons Hall, and listened, with interest, to the able lecture of Col. Haywood, before the Young Men's Christian Association of this city. There was an appreciative and intelligent audience present, but not half as large as the ability of the lecturer and its objects should have called out. His theme was "the Christian Statesman in the United States of America." It will not be expected, nor shall we attempt an analysis of a lecture which occupied nearly three hours in its delivery. His theme was a broad one: the responsibilities and the immense theatre afforded by a government based upon the principle of popular sovereignty, for the Christian Statesman. The research, logic and eloquence of the lecturer were put in requisition in its unfoldings.

It abounded with close logical deductions, historic illustrations, and at times eloquent passages. Upon the whole, it was a speech of great force and power, eliciting ever and anon, rounds of applause. Though designed to be free from politics, yet it was strongly imbued with the politics of the school to which Col. Haywood belongs; yet all felt that the lecturer uttered sentiments and principles honestly entertained and boldly expressed.

As a popular lecturer, Col. Haywood's reach of thought is quite beyond the soarings of ordinary listeners, and hence a production from his laboratory, to be fully appreciated, must be studied rather than listened to. Parts of the lecture, however, were well adapted to popular oratory.

Health of Mr. Davis.

In addition to the call of Mrs. Davis to her distinguished husband at Fortress Monroe, indicating that his early demise was among the probabilities, the Richmond Whig states that Dr. Cooper, his medical attendant, in reply to a letter written from Richmond proposing to send Mr. Davis a suit of clothes, says that his patient would not long need the articles proposed to be sent to him.

J. H. Foy, Esq., the delegate from Onslow, we regret to learn, has been detained from his seat in the Convention for several days by indisposition.

Constitutional Amendments.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The Constitution reported to the Convention by Mr. B. F. Moore, Chairman of the Committee "to revise the Constitution," article 2, section 12, is not as full and explicit as it should be, and it is therefore hoped that the Convention will amend this section before it is finally adopted. It is true that this section excludes negroes from voting "for members of the Senate and House of Commons," but it says nothing about excluding negroes from voting in all other elections and for all other officers elective by the people.

It may be said that the same persons, only who may be eligible and qualified to "vote for members of the Senate and House of Commons," would be allowed to vote in all other elections; but it may also be said that the qualifications required for voters in all other elections are merely acts of the General Assembly, which may be altered or repealed at any time by the same power that passed them.

Our law concerning the election of Governor merely declares that "the sheriff of every county shall open polls at the several election precincts of his county, for the election of a Governor of the State, on the first Thursday in August" "which shall be conducted under the same rules, regulations and restrictions, as are elections for members of the General Assembly."

If the Constitution as reported by Mr. Moore is adopted, without any amendment, there will be nothing to prohibit the General Assembly from allowing negroes to vote in all elections and for all officers elective by the people, excepting "for members of the Senate and House of Commons."

The Civil Rights act of Congress being in full force, negroes may claim the right to vote in all other elections excepting "for members of the General Assembly, unless they are clearly and positively excluded by our State Constitution.

Let these words be added to the 12th section, "or for any other officers elective by the people."—The addition of these words would make the exclusion of negroes from voting in any elections positive and unquestionable.

Section 24 of the same article makes it the duty of the General Assembly to elect "a Secretary of State, Treasurer, and Council of State," but it says nothing about the election of Comptroller, although that is one of the most necessary and important offices in the State, and has been in existence for more that eighty years.—In other States the office of Comptroller is regarded as of more importance than that of Treasurer, and as an evidence of the correctness of this assertion, it may be stated that nearly all the States of the Union, except North Carolina, the Comptroller receives a higher salary than the Treasurer.

Why not make the office of Comptroller a Constitutional office as well as the office of Sheriff, Coroner and Constables? Is there any reason why it should not be so? I do not know of any. DAY.

The misfortunes that have lately overwhelmed the virtuous Fitzs and Jameses of the Freedmen's Bureau in the South have alarmed Congress for the fate of their pets. A resolution to appoint a white-washing Joint Committee, consisting of two Senators and three members of the House, to investigate the action of the Freedmen's Bureau and of its officers in the States where the Bureau has been in operation, with power to send for persons and papers, to examine witnesses under oath, to employ a stenographic reporter, etc., and to authorize payment for the same out of the Contingent Funds of both Houses in equal proportion, was adopted, after some debate, by a vote of eighty-three to twenty-seven. The suggestion by Mr. Ross of Illinois that the subject had better be left to Generals Grant and Sherman was indignantly scouted by Head Center Stevens and his gang. And so we are to have another "Investigating Committee."—N. Y. News.

The noble ladies of Baltimore, who seem to have devoted themselves with so much generous sympathy to the amelioration of the distresses of the people of the South, are still engaged in the good work that they have marked out for themselves. Another festival for the benefit of those in the South whom the funds lately raised failed to reach is announced. The Southern people will not soon forget, we are sure, the signal sympathy exhibited by these ladies who, during the war, and since the cessation of hostilities, have never failed to respond to every call upon their generous natures. One of the latest acts of the committee of ladies of the Baltimore Southern Relief Fair has been to send a quantity of flour and provisions to the destitute people of Charleston.—N. Y. World.

STATE CONVENTION.

ADJOURNED SESSION.

FRIDAY, June 1st, 1866.

The Convention was called to order at 10 o'clock A. M.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. Jones, of Davidson, presented a petition from citizens of Davidson county relative to prosecutions for offences committed during the war, which was read and referred to the committee on State Amnesty.

Mr. Dockery, for the committee, raised to consider the propriety and expediency of authorizing a sale of the Western N. C. Rail Road, to any company that will guarantee to complete the same, reported an ordinance authorizing such sale. Report and ordinance, ordered to be printed.

Mr. Jones, of Davidson, introduced a resolution to carry into effect the ordinance of the Convention recognizing the just debts of the State, and prohibiting the payment of all public debts incurred in aid of the rebellion.

Mr. Jones, of Henderson, an ordinance legalizing certain acts of the Courts of Pleas and Quarter Sessions in certain counties. Referred to the committee on Finance.

Mr. Moore, of Wake, an ordinance in relation to marriages between persons of color. (Proposes to repeal the provision requiring the Clerk to take bond in such cases.) Laid on the table on motion of Mr. Ferebee, ayes 44, nays 39.

Mr. Jones, of Rowan, an ordinance to secure a better government for the Insane Asylum.

Mr. Wright, from the Committee on Finance, reported unfavorably on the ordinance to pay the Provisional Judges for holding Courts of Oyer and Terminer, also unfavorably on an ordinance suspending the collection of taxes.

Mr. Warren introduced an ordinance to authorize W. B. Campbell, sheriff of Beaufort county, to collect arrears of taxes. Referred to the committee on Finance.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The Convention resumed the consideration of the amended Constitution, and the question recurred on the amendment offered by Mr. Moore, of Wake, as a substitute for the one offered by Mr. Mebane to sec. 9 art. 1st, of the Declaration of Rights.

Mr. Moore's amendment is as follows: add to the section the words:

"Provided, nevertheless, that Courts may be established and held in cities and incorporated towns, and at the Court Houses, in which may be tried, without the intervention of grand and petit juries, as shall be prescribed by law, all misdemeanors except such whereof the punishment may be corporal, other than imprisonment, whenever the accused shall elect to be so tried. Provided, that in all cases where the party may be imprisoned, or fined above fifty dollars, he may appeal to any Court having jurisdiction of the case."

Messrs. McIvor, Ward, N. A. McLean, McDonald, of Moore, and McGehee addressed the Convention in opposition to the amendment.

Mr. Moore, of Wake, (by leave) withdrew the amendment he had offered, and offered the following as a substitute therefor:

"But the General Assembly may establish Courts of Record to be held publicly and at stated times and places, by one or more Judges or Justices of the Peace, who may hear and determine, without any Jury, grand or petit, all misdemeanors, the punishment whereof is not corporal otherwise than by imprisonment, whenever the accused shall consent to be so tried."

Mr. Mebane expressed a willingness (if permitted to do so) to accept this amendment as a substitute for his own.

Objection was made by Mr. Boyden and others, and the question recurring on the amendment to the amendment it was rejected—ayes 8, noes 96.

The question recurring on the amendment, the following amendment was offered by Mr. Smith of Johnston: add the words "and provided that the officers holding such Courts shall be elected by the people."

This amendment was rejected, and the question recurring on the amendment offered by Mr. Mebane, it was adopted, as follows:

AYES—Messrs. Adams, Bagley, Beam, Bell, Berry, Boyden, Bradley, Brown, Bryan, Burgin, Buxton, Caldwell, of Burke, Caldwell, of Guilford, Corrigland, Dick, Dickey, Ellis, Faulkner, Garland, Garrett, Godwin, Harris, of Guilford, Harris, of Rutherford, Harrison, Haynes, Jackson, Jones, of Davidson, Jones, of Henderson, Jones, of Rowan, Joyce, Joyner, King, Lash, Logan, Love, of Chatham, Love, of Jackson, McCauley, Nat. McLean, McRae, Mebane, Moore, of Chatham, Murphy, Norfleet, Odom, Patterson, Pearsall, Perkins, Person, Phillips, Richardson, Russell, Rush, Smith, of Johnston, Smith, of Wilkes, Spencer, of Hyde, Spencer, of Montgomery, Walkup, Winburne—58.

NAYS—Messrs. Alexander, Allen, Baines, Baker, Barrow, Bingham, Brickell, Brooks, Bynum, Dockery, Eaton, Faircloth, Ferebee, Furches, Gahagan, Gilliam, Grissom, Henry, Hodge, Jarvis, Johnston, McCorkle, McKay, of Harnett, McDonald, of Moore, McGehee, McDonald, of Moore, McGehee, McIvor, N. A. McLean, McLaughlin, Moore, of Wake, Polk, Pool, Rumley, Satterthwaite, Settle, Simmons, Sloan, Smith, of Anson, Starbuck, Stephenson, Stewart, Swan, Thompson, Ward, Warren, Willey, Wilson, Winston—48.

Mr. Caldwell, of Burke, moved to amend the 13th section of the Declaration of Rights, by substituting the words "shall not be" for the words "ought not to be." Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Bynum, the seventh section was amended by inserting after the word "testimony" the words "and in all criminal prosecutions he shall be entitled to counsel for his defence."

Sundry sections of the Declaration of Rights were amended by substituting the word "shall" for the word "ought," but after some discussion relative to the propriety of this amendment, it was reconsidered, on motion of Mr. Moore, of Wake, and the original language restored.

On motion of Mr. Phillips the further consideration of the amended Constitution was postponed until Monday next.

The Convention then adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

The surgeons reports show that our armies have suffered greatly from chills and fever which is induced by the miasma and change of climate to which they are exposed. They also find Ayer's Ague Cure is an effectual remedy for this distemper, and are urging the government to adopt it within the regulations.—The Surgeon General hesitates, because it is put up in a proprietary form. However great that convenience to the public, he prefers the physicians of the army should give their own directions for the doses. Whatever professional pride may dictate, he knows as well as we do, that Dr. Ayer's "Cure" is an almost perfect antidote for the Ague, and that the soldiers should have the benefit of it, as well as the people.—[Washington (D. C.) Correspondent.

"Unconditional Union men" are those who are requiring a great many conditions as a preliminary to Union. Such are the strange abuses to which words are put in these delightful days!

The New York Times says Mr. Stevens and his associates do not want the Southern States represented, and do not intend any of them shall be until after the next Presidential election

For the Sentinel.

The necro-mantic power of our excellent Ex-P. G.—his great skill in "killing and making alive" again at pleasure, is strikingly shown in the person of our own peaceable and Quaker-like Jonathan. "And thrice he slew the slain," is a baby, a shadowy myth, compared with what our meek, unresisting Governor suffers three times a week, regularly, at the hands of the stern, unrelenting magician. But the Ex-P. G. is careful not to "put out the light" entirely. With his right hand, he sends him howling to the shades in a twinkling: but cunningly holds a string in his left, by which he adroitly jerks him back at will. The people are surprised to see the dead man come back and take his seat among them, and quietly pursue the even tenor of his way, as though nothing particular had happened. "Time was, that when the brains were out the man would die." And time was that when a man was dead he would stay dead. But, in these highly Provisional times, we have changed all that. Killing and making alive is the order of the day, one of the fine arts, if not actually reduced to a science. After these periodical tri-weekly extinguishers, who could even hope to see again the genial, rubicund face of our throttled Governor, slowly moving up Fayetteville street, of a bright sunny morning, and demurely seating himself among his Gubernatorial papers in the Executive office at the Capitol, as though he was really living—as though he were a sure-enough Governor—and not a dead man? This is the work of the Ex-P. G. That is the way he brings folks to life, after having slaughtered them at least fifty times. He is a good man and a tender hearted, that Ex-P. G. He knows that the people of North Carolina greatly love the deceased, and having a very tender consideration for this "stricken, impoverished and ruined people, who still have, and will have forever, his warmest sympathies," he pulls the string every third morning, and Jonathan the Governor, so-called, appears like the rising sun, jogging along to his daily work. He is so methodical and laborious that many of the people begin to believe that he was not dead—and never has been, but only sleepeth o'nights, like other people, and really refresheth himself in his dreams, after which he riseth up in the morning, renewed in spirit, and goeth, cheerfully and faithfully, to his allotted work. He thinks little, and cares less, about the threatenings and slaughter breathed out against him. He labors right on, saving for our State its cotton, its share of the public lands, and gathering up, with most pains-taking care, her scattered and shattered means, wherever after diligent search, he may hope to find them. He hath not time even to read the Ex-P. G.'s amiable criticisms. He wots not of the hard names by which he is tri-weekly assailed. Neither careth he a copper whether ugly names are uttered about him or not. He hath his work to do, and he doeth it. The people made him Governor for that especial purpose, and he will do it or die. Whether or not there be "whelps" about his heels "barking and snapping," he neither knows nor cares when they cross his path. He taketh not the trouble to kick them away. He alloweth not such vanities to disturb his equanimity. He even smileth within himself, knowing that popular dentistry hath long ago extracted the teeth of these canine gentry. He knoweth them to be harmless.

It is both distressing and ludicrous to witness the effect of these tri-weekly apparitions on the nerves of the venturesome Ex. P. G., who so rashly evokes them. He cannot let him rest.—Seeming to fear that "this gun powder Percy" may not be quite dead, he drags him forth three times a week, and gives him a few more valiant stabs. And every time the ghost makes his appearance, he seems to become larger and larger, and to assume at each visitation, still more gigantic proportions to the staring optics of the great ghost-raiser. And there is a Belshazzar shaking about the knees. For, "an old man cometh up, and he is covered with a mantle, and Saul perceived that it was Samuel, and he stooped with his face to the ground, and bowed himself. And Samuel said unto Saul, "why hast thou disquieted me to bring me up?" And Saul answered, "I am sore distressed, (otherwise translated, 'sick at heart,') for the Philistines make war upon me, and God is departed far from me," &c.

The Ex. P. G. seems, in his bewilderment, to mistake the people of North Carolina for Philistines, and to be constantly striking them back for the buffetting they gave him last Summer. He evidently loves them to distraction, after the fashion of Paddy to his friend, who "for love, knocks him down." He cannot consent that the army should be removed, nor even greatly lessened—not he. He fears that "heel of our enemies on our breasts." He cannot consent to be "left alone in their hands." He cannot urge manfully the removal of that intensified, potent and deeply felt abomination, the Freedmen's Bureau. Some gentle hints only, are all he can risk on that question. North Carolina has not been punished enough yet, for him. Her people are still awfully rebellious—to him. They have got to stay out a good while longer for behaving so badly last year. The patriotic and quite amiable Ex. P. G. will see to that. He has a score of enemies to punish yet, though he used to say he had none. What can the State be to him, so long as he may not be Governor? Her interests, her honor, her very existence, how can he think about such things, when he seeth that demure Quaker's son sitting in the high places? He cannot consent to restore the old State,—for would it not falsify that old stereotyped refrain, "Holden and go in—Worth and stay out?" An early restoration would prove our Ex. P. G. to have been no prophet—and let him be true, though every man, woman and child be consigned to the warm regions, where all liars are said to have their part, unless he could have his finger in the pie, would he consent to our restoration on the President's plan, or on any other plan, think you? It would seem that he is willing to sacrifice all—to see us crumbled and crushed like a dry and withered leaf, rather than that his own miserable croakings should not be realized, and he lose the poor pleasure of exulting in the accomplishment, to the letter, of his vaticinations.

The Ex. P. G. though somewhat wayward, is still precious in the eyes of his stricken old mother. And with tears in those eyes, she hereby tenders him to our Great Father, the President, and to the Honorable, the Secretary of the U. States,—to be by them respectively nominated, confirmed, and sent abroad on any diplomatic mission—"for his country's good." His talents are more than respectable in stirring up strife, either foreign or domestic. Our country casts a wistful glance at Mexico, in her transition state. Internal discord should be fermented, strifes stirred up, and the children of the Sun put at loggerheads with each other. Remember the bundle of sticks—remember, "United we Stand," &c., and then say—(we are talking to the President and Senate, now) could you find a better man to play the —— generally in Mexico, than the one who has spent a long and restless life at home in stirring up strife among his own brethren? Mexico is almost ours.—The peach is a luscious one, but not quite ripe yet. Let our Government be in readiness with the right man—in the right place. Let him be at his post in time, and even in advance of the time. If there be in Maximilian's dominions any peculiar elements of discord lying about loose, the Ex. P. G. is just the man to hunt them out, gather them together, and nurse them as a hen nurseth her chickens under her wings.—And would not good natured old Rip Van Winkle rub open his sleepy eyes and give them an extra twinkle, on learning that the Ex. Provisional—his precious first born, as it were, had been translated to a higher sphere—and that without the adventitious aid of hemp. And what relief would the blessed old fellow feel? His tattered old coat would now be safe from that unfitted and irreverent practice of poking his fingers through all its holes, whenever the old gentleman turned his back. But the lesson will not be lost. If there's a hole in a' the cost of Mexico, Venezuela, Caffraria, Banataria, or any government under Heaven or elsewhere, to which our great statesman may be commissioned, he will be sure to find it and have his fingers through it, before you can say Jack Robinson. By practicing constantly, in a Provisional way, he is presumed to have become perfect in a ministerial way—and as a ministerial accomplishment. So let him be sent abroad in an honorable retirement to any country who needs him, more that he is needed in the house of his fathers. He may ride one horse, or two, or travel afoot or go by the sea, all the same to his native land. So he will only go and leave her a little repose. Y. Y.

THE MUSIC OF NATURE.

There's a musical flow in the bright sparkling rill,
That ripples and rushes along,
With its varied tones and quavering trill,
That touches the soul with its song.
In the mountain it creeps, through pebble paved nooks,
And lulls, with a gurgling strain,
Then it joins in a chorus with murmuring brooks,
Arousing the spirit again.

The musical wind, with its deep roaring bass,
"Thunders the mountains around;"
The keen shrilly whistle that blows through the case,
Chills the lone heart with its sound.
The soft southern zephyr, seems never to tire,
In wafting its melodies deep;
With spirit-like fingers, it touches its Lyre,
Enchanting the senses to sleep.

Affrighted! we list to the tempest's wild roar,
"As the storm cloud rides on the blast?"
How we dread its loud shake at the tenement door!
And how glad! when its sweepings have passed.
The solemn sea heaves with a deep heavy moan,
The frail vessel rocks and responds;
The tempest tost mariner sighs for his home,
And pallid with terror desponds.

The busy mill whirls with the cataract's fall,
And echo leaps back from the glen,
The hunter's horn winds with its soft mellow call,
And mingles its notes with the strain.
The sound of the ax in the dim forest aisle,
The herd's tinkling bell in the vale,
The faithful dog's bay, as he watches the stile,
Are musical greetings to hail.

The piteous bleating of sheep in the brake,
The busy bee's murmur at noon,
The cooing of geese on the clear shady lake
Commingle and melt in attune.
The beautiful songsters that people the grove,
And welcome the spring with their strains,
Warble sweeter by far than pens of love
Than the pipings of amorous swains.

The little brown cricket that chirps with a sway,
Drawing its "creaky craw bow,"
Stirs thoughts in the heart of friends far away,
And sociable times, long ago.
The locust's shrill pipe from its hammock of leaves,
Saying aloft in the air,
Pours forth its strange notes to the light summer breeze
Premonations of evil and care.

Our planet is full of innumerous strains
With the sweetest of memories rife;
Their melodious gush sweeps mountains and plains
And plays on the heart-strings of life.
Sound me notes wake a child's happy laugh,
And floats in the soft dreamy air;
Tis the music of home, and plays round the hearth
Still weaving its symphonies there.

How joyous the sound of pattering feet!
'Tis a sound that we know full well;
And the answering heart to its echoing beat
Responds from its innermost cell.
Oh who has not felt the magical power,
Of a voice tuned to pity and love!
Of woman's low whisper in death's gloomy hour
Directing the spirit above!

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitations, whose vast internal doses coercive the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast supersecding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation! If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the weaker of both sexes. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it has here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. Write for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by I. MAGGIEL, 41 Hilton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

TRIAL OF MAJOR JOHN H. GEE.

SYNOPSIS OF TESTIMONY.

Reported by George J. Manson, Stenographer.

FIFTY FIRST DAY.

SATURDAY, May 19, 1866.

Q. How did the guard house happen to be built for the guard?

A. I directed it to be done; it must have been done after I returned there about the middle of February, the guard were suffering extremely from the weather, they were placed out in an open space and exposed and suffered very much, upon Col. Hoke's representation to me, I ordered Morfit to put up shelter for 2000 men. He said he could not do it, that what he had was for some barracks preparing for the prisoners.—But Gen. Winder stopped it by an order, and Morfit said that he could not do it in consequence of Gen. Winder's order. I thought I would rank Gen. Winder right there and had the guard house put up.

Q. State why it was that temporary shelter was not erected at that prison for the prisoners of war, before that—that they had to do with the shelter they had until the large buildings were put up?

A. The idea was that they were to take their men and organize them into large working parties. Morfitt got it up, he was on some duty at Danville, an energetic, active man, and was under the impression that if he took these prisoners of war and worked them, out there, that they would not only support themselves but be of benefit to us, he represented that to his government; Morfitt was sent down to Salisbury for the purpose of building these large workshops in which he could organize shoe shops, blacksmith shops and iron works and the men were working in that way, that was the reason that Morfitt got up this talk of his men coming and the great factory he was going to have there.

Q. Do you know of Major Gee having a different opinion and wanting temporary shelter put up by Morfit, and its being beyond his control and he could not have it done.

A. I can only say that Major Gee expressed his dissatisfaction of what he called Morfit's "magnificent ideas." Morfit had such ideas that they could not be executed.

Q. Was there ever such a thing there as the 7th N. C. Battalion?

A. Not during my time.

Q. Where were the light duty or crippled men put?

A. They were sent to the Yadkin river bridge.

Q. If Major Gee had any control over Morfit, recognized by the General, would Gen. Winder have given this order to Morfit instead of to Major Gee?

A. Certainly not. I have seen Major Morfitt's orders; they were explicit, that he was to go to Salisbury and supply those prisoners with stores; that he was to draw everything from the Post Quartermaster and purchase, and that he was to report to Gen. Gardner; those were his orders.

Q. You say that order placed him independent of Major Gee?

A. I would not like to say that, sir. If ever I had been in command and Major Morfitt had come with such an order, I should have made him obey me; but it was a fair matter of discussion, and that was the trouble. He did not have the rank to hold him. If it had been an explicit matter so that there would have been no trouble about it, I suppose it would not be mixed. The order directed him to report to Brigadier General Winder, there is no doubt about that.

Q. Is it your opinion, from the circumstances that Major Gee was surrounded with, what difficulty was there, if any, to have taken the prisoners out to have erected temporary huts or shelters for themselves; was such a plan feasible?

A. I cannot answer, though I should think there would be great difficulty in attempting such a project. There was wood within a few hundred yards—perhaps 500 or 600—of the prison. In the first place, he would have had to have got axes, which was almost impossible. The year before, axes were so scarce in the Confederate Quartermaster's Department that I had Cavalry detailed to buy them. The second difficulty was, if I had put them under a guard the men would have taken the guns from the guard. These people outside were no soldiers; if we sent out forty prisoners and a guard, the prisoners would have taken the muskets and marched along. The Junior Battallion there were something like soldiers. I once found them cutting wood by driving in Railroad spikes. I could not get wood enough, and the men of the prison suffered, but not one-tenth as much as the Reserves outside. During the month of January they got little over one-half what they were entitled to. I went to see what I could do about it, and I said to Goodman to look out for 150 men to cut wood; he gave me a list, and if they had not come I would have turned a detail of the prisoners out on parole, but without the guard.

Q. How came you to be so clear about the quantity that the prisoners got in wood over these Reserves?

A. I have got it here in an official report, (witness produces paper.) This is a paper written by myself, or a copy, to Gen. Gardner. This is a report that I made myself, and I got the figures from the official report of the office.—The three regiments of Reserves during the month of January, were entitled to 356,47 cords and they received 86 cords, a deficit of 270 cords, nearly one quarter; up to February 15th, they were entitled to 179 cords and they received 34—a deficit of 145; complaints were made in regard to the suffering of the Reserves, and I called for a report and that is the way I got those figures, and if the Reserves suffered it was fair to think that the prisoners suffered. Morfitt reported the average in January was 6,309, and that they were entitled to 35 cords a day, of which they received but 31 11-30ths; the average of February was 31½ and got 23; this is per day.

Q. Were these the letters that you wrote to Richmond that Goodman should be removed?

A. Yes sir; I had him removed for that reason.

Q. How long did you remain away?

A. From the 17th of Janaary till the 10th of February.

Q. During all this time from whom did Morfit get his supplies?

A. Goodman.

Q. From what you saw there, and the means at Major Gee's disposal, appliances that he was using, &c., was he doing all he could to get water for the prisoners?

(Question objected to by the Judge Advocate, and the objection sustained.)

Q. What was done to get water for the prisoners by Major Gee?

A. Major Gee dug wells there of which I know very little; I know the number dug; he had a water detail to go through the large gate with barrels to get water, and the number of men in that detail was only limited by the number of men on duty at the post; they were divided into three reliefs every third day, that is, each day they had for guard there the maximum that could possibly be furnished.

Q. You have told us what he did do, what things could he have done, if any?

A. He could not have increased the water party from the gate at all because he had not sufficient men to make a larger guard. What could have been done inside in the way of digging wells I am unable to state.

Q. These visits of yours to the cookhouse were made at times when they could not be fixed up?

A. Yes sir; they had no notice of any coming; nobody had notice of my coming.

Q. Do you know any difficulty you had after getting these prisoners exchanged, about transporting them?

A. Yes sir; I have 250 telegrams on the exchange.

Q. Did you transport them and were they refused by the U. S. authorities?

A. Yes sir; I can give the telegrams of Gens. Bragg, Baker and Hoke on this subject, that the U. S. authorities refused to receive them; the prisoners were larger at Salisbury than was anticipated.

Q. How did the prisoners at Salisbury compare with the 250 that came down the road?

(Question objected to by the Judge Advocate; objection sustained.)

Witness.—Up to the 1st. of January, we expected they would be removed, after that there was no place to send them to, by reason of hostile operations.

Q. Tell about the effort of Gov. Vance and how far it extended.

A. That was all in writing. When I got back from the Virginia furlough, I found a letter from Gov. Vance, which had been received in answer to one by my adjutant-general. He said it was represented that there was great suffering and the like, and men were dying out, &c. My adjutant-general had made a statement of rations furnished and some general statements. As soon as I got there I wrote to Gov. Vance very fully on the subject and explained to him that these men were suffering more from want of shelter and clothes and demoralization than from any other cause; they did not have the fair quantity of rations we required under the circumstances, but they were fully up to my ability. Vance wrote to me to say that he would give me a lot of clothes if I would make the arrangements with the Federal officers to supply the North Carolina troops in the North with the same quantity. I received this offer after I had made an arrangement with General Hayes at Richmond; I told him I would like to have some tents, but he said he had no tents.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

Question by Judge Advocate.—In respect to this letter of Governor Vance's did you send him the amount of provisions that had been actually issued to the prisoners?

A. Yes sir.

Q. From whom did you obtain the information of this issue?

A. I think Major Gee and Capt. Booth got it from Major Myers.

Q. Did you apply to Major Gee for it?

A. No sir, my impression is that was done during my absence, my impression is that Booth, my Adjutant, sent it off.

Q. Do you know what amount of provisions were stated in that prison return as having been issued to the prisoners?

A. No sir, I am not certain, I did not see it myself. I cannot say whether Booth sent it before I went or not.

Q. During the time that you were in command at that post, what amount of provisions were generally issued to the prisoners?

A. I could not tell.

Correction.

EDITORS SENTINEL:—In the report of my testimony as printed in the Sentinel of 31st., I am made to say, "I was utterly unable to find out how these men were cheated of their rations (for they were cheated,) &c." It should read "if they were cheated."

Your obedient servant,

BRADLEY T. JOHNSTON.

Notices of Advertisements and other matters crowded out.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CONCERT.—Our engagements prevented our attendance at the Concert on Wednesday night. Last night it was repeated. In both instances the Concert was a decided success. Large audiences testified their appreciation. Few men possess greater tact in getting up these exhibitions, than the efficient Superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School, W. J. Palmer, Esq., and to his efforts, the success of the School and the attractive character of the Concerts, are mainly due. He is, however, promptly sustained by the pastor and the laity of the Church. God speed the Sabbath Schools. The moral and religious future of the Church and the State, depend greatly upon the efficiency of the Sabbath Schools.

We are requested to announce that the renting of the pews in the Episcopal Church, heretofore advertised, will taken place to-day at 12 o'esock.

Episcopal Convention.

We infer from a paragraph in the Newbern Times, that a quorum of the delegates to the Convention at Newbern, was not present on Wednesday last.

FRANKLINTON SCHOOL.—Our associate, Maj. Gales, delivered the annual address before Mr. Neal's school at Franklinton on yesterday. We were not there, but we are quite sure the school and the crowded audience were perfectly delighted.

ATTEMPT TO ABANDON AN INFANT.—On Tuesday night an unmarried woman attempted to abandon her child, three months of age, by concealing it in a freight car near the depot in this town. After concealing the infant she started to Goldsboro on the 10 o'clock train. The child was discovered in time to intercept her escape by telegraph, and she was brought back on the return train.—Greensboro Patriot.

JEWISH COLLEGE.—There is a project on foot among the Israelites of the United States to build a magnificent college for the purpose of educating the young men professing that faith in all the scientific and classical branches, but particularly in Jewish theology. Hitherto the Jews have had to send their children designed for the ministry to the Continent for education.

The Rev. Edwin Geer, of St. Peter's Church, Washington, N. C., is at present in New York, soliciting contributions to aid in rebuilding that edifice which was burned during the war.

TELEGRAPHIC.

From South America.

NEW YORK, June 1st.

The steamer Morning Star has arrived. The frigate Susquehanna left Rio for New York April 19th. The news from the River Platte is important. There was fearful slaughter April 10th. of 1,200 Paraguans, who attacked the Brazillian batteries on the Island opposite Itaherna. Ten thousand Brazillians crossed the Parana on the 16th without opposition, and drove in the Paraguan skirmishers, and next morning occupied Itaherna, captured four guns and a flag. The whole allied army transferred on 19th. to Paraguan side of the Parana. The Paraguans abandoned their camp, three miles on the road to Humantra and retreated to that Fortress on which the allies were marching.—Humantra cannot be held, and a speedy end of the war is anticipated.

The Brazillian Imperial Assembly convened. The Emperor's speech called especial attention to the currency. The Custom House in Sante Catherine was blown up—twenty persons killed.

At Rio Grande de Sul, the old silver mines worked by the Jesuits, have been re-discovered. Coffee at Rio declining—freights dull—Exchange on London, lower, bank rates 24½d.

Fenians Again.

BUFFALO, June 1.

The reporter of the Express has just returned from a point a mile and a half below lower Black Rock, says, the Fenian column 600 strong, reached that point. Nine wagons loaded with ammunition and arms, preceded them.—They declare they will effect a crossing before day-light.

LATER.

A reporter at Fort Erie Canada opposite Buffalo captured by the Fenians, who represented them to be 3000 strong, 2000 of whom he said were marching unopposed into the interior and are said already to have cut one telegraph line.

Fenians Again.

BUFFALO, June 1.

Notwithstanding the vigilance of the authorities in this section, and the U. S. steamer Michigan being under steam and having her ports open and the city swarming with Canadian spies, several regiments of Fenians crossed into Canada last night, including troops from Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana. A regiment from Ohio and one from this city. At this point they marched in canal boats drawn by tugs and when nearing the Canadian side, sent up wild Irish shouts, with a green flag floating.

Colonel O'Neal of the Thirteenth Regiment, of Nashville, is in command at Fort Erie. A large number of persons were viewing the sight from this shore. The Fenians say no depredations shall be committed. All the Canadian wires on the Canada side have been cut, excepting those near Suspension Bridge. The Agent of the Associated press left for the scene of operations. The Fenians are reported to be marching towards the Suspension Bridge 22 miles from here.

United States Troops after the Fenians

BOSTON, June 1.

Two companies of regulars left for the North this morning from Fort Warren, under Col. Livingston. Newby has raised a Fenian Cavalry Regiment under command of Col. Icontai late of Mosby's guerrillas, a part of the expedition from this city.

The Fenians say, that Gen. Fitzhugh Lee will command the cavalry wing of their army of invasion. They further say, the blow will be struck early next week, probably on Monday.

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, June 1.

Public business was suspended to-day in respect to the memory of the late Gen. Scott.

Congress not in session, both, Houses having adjourned to Monday.

New York Market.

NEW YORK, June 1.

Cotton quiet—steady—partial holiday. Gold 141.

Telegraph Reports received too late for Yesterday's Issue.

From Washington,--Interesting Items.

WASHINGTON, May 31.

It is said that the report of the Secretary of the Treasury will show that the total sales of nearly thirty millions of gold since the first of May have been effected at 30½, and that no gold was sold in March and April for less than 27.

Among recent pardons the name of W. J. Simpson, of S. C., of the late Confederate Congress, is mentioned.

James Wilson, of Indiana, Minister to Venezuela, William Faxon, of Conn., and Capt. G. V. Fox, Assistant Secretarys of the Navy, James Ready, New Orleans, assessor of internal revenue, have been confirmed by the Senate.

It is untrue as published that the President does not specially object to the reconstruction resolutions now pending in the Senate. He adheres to his own programme of restoration.

Congress.

SENATE.—Mr. Wilson, from the committee of both Houses, reported joint resolutions of respect and veneration for the memory of Gen. Scott, and that when both Houses adjourn to-day they adjourn to meet on Monday, and that a committee of seven Senators and nine Representatives be appointed to represent Congress at the funeral to-morrow. The resolutions were unanimously adopted. Similar resolutions were adopted in each House.

The third section of the reconstruction resolutions was passed as originally reported to the Senate caucus. Several amendments were offered by Mr. Doolittle, but each one was rejected by a vote of 32 to 10, which was the vote on the adoption of the section. The matter was laid over until next week.

HOUSE.—Mr. Stevens' bill for the construction of a line of Railway from Washington to the Northwest and also to build the Rail Road from Pittsburg to Cleveland was passed. Lebland, of Ohio, spoke against the bill as infringing the rights of the States.

Further reports from Gens. Steedman and Fullerton on the Freedmen's Bureau were read and referred. Bill for the reduction of officers' pay and to regulate that of the soldiers was discussed.

Freedmen's Bureau in Congress---General Whittlesey's Report.

The Secretary of War sent in to the House to-day in compliance with a resolution, Gen. Whittlesey's review of Gens. Steedman's and Fullerton's report of Freedmen's Bureau. Whittlesey says, their report is unfair and unjust, denies that they make a thorough investigation or represented the good it has done.

Foreign Flour.

The Consul at Liverpool writes to the State Department, May 18. "Two weeks ago I advised you of a shipment to New York of 15000 bushels of wheat of American exportation.—The city of Cork which sails to-morrow takes 498 sacks of French flour. This is the first instance of such a shipment from this port to the United States, and probably the first time flour was shipped from Europe to America."

The Fenians.

NEW YORK, May 31.

The Sweeney wing of the Fenian army appears to have taken the field. Fenians by train loads, have been arriving at Buffalo, Cleveland and other cities along the border confronting Canada. The movement has assumed a threatening attitude. The British Consul arrived at Buffalo and telegraphed on yesterday to the manager of the great Western Railway requesting him to stop all the trains going from the Suspension Bridge. He also telegraphed to the military authorities at Toronto. Canadian volunteers, it is expected, will again be called to arms.

New York Markets.

NEW YORK, May 31.

Cotton dull, sales 1000 bales. Flour declines 5 to 10 cents; sales 12,000 barrels. Wheat and Corn declining, sales 227 bushels—Corn 3 to 4 cts. lower. Sugar steady. Gold 1.39.

At the last great billiard match in New York, Wednesday night, the Canadian champion, Joseph Dean, best John Deery, the New York champion, 134 points in 1500, won the cue and $1000.

A vast audience assembled to see the match, among the members being several distinguished characters. When the Canadian's triumph became apparent, the backers of the New Yorker improvised a row, and it was feared, at one time, that a general fisticuff was approaching. At this point one of the most interested and robust spectators was observed, skedaddling towards the door with frantic haste, being obviously afraid of the opening combat. He was easily recognized as Dr. Benjamin F. Butler, the hero of Dutch Gap. His presence may probably be accounted for by the circumstance that there was a silver cue in the room. His absence is certainly explained by the prospect of a fight.—Pet. Index.

A VERY FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH,

For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state.—To the young and middle-aged they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce de Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to vigor and make youth ever

An Eternal Spring!

It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show in one glorious fact, that magic that made it fair.

THESE FAMOUS REMEDIES

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity the offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILLIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed dose to the youngest babe.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS

And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil!

WARRENTON, N. C.,
WHITE SULPHUR AND CHALYBEATE SPRINGS.

THE UNDERSIGNED has the satisfaction of announcing to the public that he has leased these celebrated Springs, and that they will be opened for the reception of visitors on the first day of June ensuing.

His arrangements are of that complete and extensive character, that he will be able to accommodate a large number of guests and to offer greater attractions than usual to those who may visit it.

This pleasant and healthful resort.

No trouble or expense will be spared to render his patrons comfortable and satisfied.

The grounds are elegantly laid off, and the buildings are enlarged and improved.

He will have ICE, MILK, VEGETABLES, and all the substantials and delicacies of the table in profusion.

An ICE CREAM SALOON and SODA FOUNTAIN will be attached to the establishment, where these refreshments, as well as CONFECTIONERY, Fruits &c., can be always obtained.

The bar will be supplied with the finest liquors, and a billiard saloon and bowling alley, for amusement and exercise, be at the disposal of visitors.

The Medicinal Properties

Of the Sulphur water have been amply tested during many years by a large number of visitors, and its beneficial results strikingly displayed in the cure or relief of Dyspepsia, Affections of the Liver, Jaundice, Diseases of the Skin, &c.

Another Spring has been discovered in the vicinity of the establishment, an accurate scientific analysis of which [given below] proves that it is a valuable Chalybeate. It is a mild and gentle tonic, and in the opinion of the physicians who have examined it, and witnessed its effects in some cases during several seasons, must prove beneficial in Atonic Dyspepsia Chlorosis, Uterine, Nervous and Neuralgic Affections connected with Debility; and of especial service to persons living in malarious regions of country, whose blood has been robbed of its normal proportion of iron by repeated attacks of malarial fevers.

Persons travelling on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad will always find a line of stages, under the management of Mr. Granger, ready for their accommodation at Warrenton Depot. There will be a daily mail from Warrenton to the Springs.

Importance to all whom it may concern.
—READ.—

The undersigned, Agent of the ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY for the State of North Carolina, would respectfully inform those who represent deceased friends, insured in this Company, to apply at my office for the settlement of Policies, as soon as they can conveniently and conveniently do so.

MR. JUSTUS KINSEY'S death has been announced in our community. He was one of our most worthy citizens and active business men, and took the precaution, in time, to provide for his now sorrowing loved ones by an Insurance on his life for $5,000 in the gallant "Ætna," which has never refused to pay a loss promptly. And in this case the persons entitled to receive the amount will please present themselves and the policy at my office for payment.

Here we are furnished with an example of prudent forethought worthy of imitation by each and all who have hearts to love, and hands to provide for their dependent loved ones. The investment of $150 has provided $5000,
in cash for this family.

No man should neglect a transaction so important.
